“Click It or Ticket” Campaign Saves Lives

United States Army, Europe, is cracking down on drivers who don't buckle up. During the Memorial Day weekend, U.S. military police and German police are teaming up for “Click It or Ticket,” a campaign to get everyone to wear their seatbelts. If you are stopped for a traffic offense and you or your passengers are not buckled up, be prepared to lose your license for seven days.

The penalties for vehicle operators who drive without wearing a seatbelt or who don't require passengers to wear seatbelts or restraining devices are as follows: a first-time offender's driving privileges are suspended for 7 days; a second-time offender's driving privileges are suspended for 30 days and a letter of counseling is issued to the offender; a third-time offender's driving privileges are suspended for 180 days. Suspending authorities can also suspend repeated offenders' driving privileges for up to one year.

Each offense adds two traffic points to the offender's driving record. German authorities charge a €30 fine for drivers without a seatbelt. Vehicle operators are charged if any vehicle occupant is not wearing a seatbelt or proper restraining device. Be sure to buckle up!

Play It Safe During Summer

From Memorial Day to Labor Day (May 23 to September 1), there is historically an increase in auto and motorcycle accidents, recreational water safety (such as boating or swimming) accidents and family activity (such as bicycling or picnicking) accidents. As summer approaches, remember to buckle up all family members when traveling, never drink and drive or get in car with someone who has been drinking, wear protective gear when biking, skateboarding and rollerblading and learn the signs of heat stroke. Play it safe this summer.
